Corn

Trends – December Contract

Short Term: DownLong Term: Up

Overnight Trade: Z Flat @7:30 AM

Estimated Fund Position

Net Long Futures and Options: -79000

Change: +22000

Yesterday, the December corn posted an outside day up on the chart and closed back above the 50-day moving average. Recent strength suggests that the downward move is over and that we are likely to see a move back to at least the $4.20 and likely a retest of the $4.35 level. Export sales have been great lately, which increases the likelihood that ending stocks stay below the 2 billion bushel level.

Wheat Estimated Fund Position

Trends - December Contract

Short Term: Down Net Long Futures and Options: -28000

Long Term: Up Change: +3000

Overnight Trade: Chicago: Z -2 KC: Z -1 @7:30 AM

The December KW made a new low for the move overnight, as did the December Chicago. Both contracts are also trying to slip back below the 50-day moving average, which gives the charts a negative feel. Wheat needs to see some big sales like the corn market to make the shorts a little more nervous again. It's still mostly dry in the HRW Belt, but demand makes for better headlines than any supply side concerns.

Soybeans Estimated Fund Position

Trends - December Contract

Short Term: Down Net Long Futures and Options: -38000

Long Term: Down Change: +12000

Overnight Trade: X Flat @7:30 AM

We have been seeing a number of large daily soybean sales announcements recently, which is very, very helpful to the market. Hopefully we can see enough exports to keep ending stocks from getting any worse. The November contract has found some solid support around $9.68, but we are probably going to have to have a close above $10.00 to make the bears very nervous.

Live Cattle Trend

Short Term: Up Long Term: Up

Opening Calls: Mixed

Live cattle futures finished moderately lower on Monday, with profit taking and spillover from lower equities weighed on the market. Cutouts remain strong, with choice +2.21 and select +2.01 and the spread stretching out to 26.65. Cash trade was quiet, while our show list fell 9% to the lowest level in ten years. Overnight macros are mixed with equities and the Dollar lower in early morning trade.

Feeder Cattle

Trends

Short Term: Up Long Term: Up

Opening Call: Mixed

Feeder cattle futures finished lower on Monday, with the November off an even dollar for the session. Lower fats and a six cent gain in the corn futures weighed on this market. The cash index fell to 250.26 on Monday but remains well supported. Overnight corn values are flat to slightly firmer, as we write.

The crude market climbed last night in what might be follow through strength from yesterdays higher close along with some technical house "cleaning". Spot month crude oil stayed within last week's consolidation zone and recovered to close higher on the session yesterday after posting the lowest close in 3 weeks and attempting a downside breakout of the week's consolidation on Friday. In addition to yesterday's recovery, the November contract will expire today which could be giving the market some follow-through strength this morning. Early trade did see the new spot month contract, December, move up to important moving average resistance in early trade, which was just under $1.00 higher. This is after falling about 75 cents in overnight trade. Headlines are quiet as the trade revisits stories that put the market into consolidation last week. Concerns about global demand along with the ongoing geopolitical threats in the Middle East are still dominating. The US Secretary of State arrived in Israel today in an advertised push for a ceasefire. There could just as easily be an announcement for more arms and financial support forthcoming as well. Industry news is limited to this week's US supply and demand data released over the next 2 sessions which are expected to show an increase in crude supplies.

Schwieterman Update

Financial Market Analysis for the morning of Tuesday, October 22, 2024

Wichita, KS 800-972-9131 620-275-4100

Alan Clark - alanjclark@upthelimit.com

U.S. Stock Futures

The equities closed mixed as the Dow lost 344, the S&P lost 10, and the Nasdaq gained 50. This morning's futures are all lower with the Dow down 130, the S&P down 20, and the Nasdaq down 80. GM raised its guidance targets for 2024 after easily beating Wall Street's third quarter estimates. Revenue was up to over $48 billion after expectations were at $44.5 billion. Disney announced yesterday that James Gorman will replace Mark Parker as the next chairman, starting in January. They also plan to name a new CEO in 2026 replacing Bob Iger. Nvidia's recent rise saw a high at $143.71, which was a new all-time high and put their market cap at $3.5 trillion just shy of Apple's at $3.6 trillion. Nike will be the exclusive uniform and apparel provider for the NBA and WNBA for another 12 years. That contract was signed yesterday, and the previous one was signed in 2017 for $1 billion. The latest contract is apparently much bigger.

Stock to Watch: Chijet Motor Company is up 15.86% premarket.
